Ike Seemed Fearful Of Drab Confab

President Traveled
West To Perk Up
Interest In GOP

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision to spend more time at the Republican National Convention was prompted partly by concern that it might otherwise attract less attention than the Democratic convention, press secretary James C. Hagerty said today.

Eisenhower flew to San Francisco last Tuesday, a day earlier than originally planned. He is remaining in California for a brief vacation before returning to Washington this week.

Hagerty was asked in a television interview — Reporters' Roundup — recorded here in advance of broadcast, whether one purpose of the revised timetable was "apprehension" that the GOP sessions might attract less attention than the Democratic meeting in Chicago a week earlier.

"I think the honest answer to that is yes," Hagerty replied. "He wanted to come out and meet with the people knowing full well that his arrival a day ahead would generate interest in the Republican ticket."

Another reason, he said, was to "give himself and the delegates a sense of joint participation... rather than coming out... after all the proceedings had been finished and appearing almost 'god-like' from a hotel to accept the nomination."

The press secretary said he thought it "natural" that the GOP convention would get less attention than the Democratic session because "we forget conventions of the party in power with the president that is running for re-election."

Hagerty pictured Eisenhower as ready for a hard campaign unrestricted by any health problems.

"I would say he is no longer a convalescent" from his June 9 abdominal operation, Hagerty said.

He also commented that "I think that his physical well-being has no bar" to an active campaign.

Use Informal Technique
That campaign, he hinted, may see Eisenhower using an informal technique in his television appearances.

"You have to do a more informal type of campaigning this year of all years," Hagerty said.

With the development of television, he added, "a prepared oratorical campaign speech has seen better days."

Hagerty declined to say how many speeches or appearances Eisenhower plans but he said the first probably won't come "until the middle of September."

Asked if the President will make campaign trips outside Washington, he replied, "I can't tell you yet, but I think there will be some."

Navy Orders Far East News Ban On Plane

TOKYO, Aug. 26 (AP)—The U. S. Navy ordered a blackout in the Far East today on news and picture coverage of developments in the downing of a Navy patrol plane in international waters off Red China's coast.

Navy officials in Formosa, Japan and Okinawa said they were under the strictest, classified orders to give out no further information on the subject.

The blackout applied even to human interest angles. Capt. F. G. Selby, Navy director of public information, confirmed in Washington a blanket order had been issued, forbidding further release of information in the Far East on the P4M Mercator "Formosa Straits patrol" plane downed with 16 crewmen aboard early Thursday.

Patman Claims GOP Inflation Curbs Backfire

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), vice chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said tonight the Eisenhower administration's "hard money" efforts to curb inflation are backfiring and doing more harm than good.

Predicting that living costs will climb above their present record levels, Patman said a congressional investigation to determine whether inflation is getting out of hand would be "well worth" the effort. But he stopped short of demanding such an inquiry.

Sen. Frear (D-Ind.) said yesterday a Senate Banking subcommittee on which he served plans hearings in the fall to explore many facets of the nation's economy. Heading this group is Sen. Robertson (D-Va.).

Patman put out a statement which is certain to be echoed by fellow Democrats during the approaching campaign.

He took particular aim at the Federal Reserve Board's order of last week boosting discount rates — the charge for reserve bank loans to member banks. The board acted in an effort to put a damper on spiraling costs, using the same device it had called into play five times since early 1955.

"One wonders," Patman said, "how long it will take for the hard money enthusiasts to recognize that their remedy is not proving to be a curative but an irritant instead."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Thursday that living costs hit a new peak in July, eclipsing the record high reached in June.

Noting the rise, Patman said, "It is safe to say that those who watch their budgets closely over the months ahead will feel the increasing pinch of higher food costs, higher housing costs, and higher costs of everything they buy."

He said the discount rate increase from 2 1/4 to 3 per cent for five federal reserve banks will translate into higher interest rates on loan in general.

Soviet Unveils New Jet MIG Over Germany

ORANIENBURG, East Germany, Aug. 26 (AP)—Russia pulled an air division out of Communist East Germany today and in a farewell show gave a surprise display of its new secret jet fighter.

Seventy Ilyushin-28 jet bombers took off presumably for Russia as East Germany's Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz in a big propaganda demonstration demanded withdrawal of Allied units from West Germany.

More than 10,000 persons at Oranienburg airfield got a peek at the new Soviet jet—a long silver MIG19. But only a few spectators realized they were glimpsing the Russian challenge to America's new F10 jet fighter.

The sweptwing, twin-engine MIG sneaked over the airfield as most eyes were riveted on a demonstration of big Soviet troop-carrying helicopters. Seven four-plane flights of MIG17 fighters already had flashed overhead and the flypast was thought ended.

Suddenly the MIG19 came in low over the field, exploded its afterburner jet booster as it passed the reviewing stand and whooshed away at supersonic speed.

Allied air observers said this was the first hint the new fighter was being sent service at Russia's forward bases in Germany. They said the MIG never before has been spotted and identified outside of recent Moscow air shows.

Russian officers refused to comment on the MIG19 or even identify it as such.

Windstorm Death Toll Rises To 10

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 26 (AP)—The known death toll of a windstorm that struck divided Germany yesterday rose today to 10. Police said seven were killed in West Germany, one in Berlin and two in East Germany. The storm damage was estimated unofficially at about a million dollars.

KUSHIRO, Japan, Aug. 26 (AP)—Fifty-two Japanese fishermen released by Russia returned to this northern port today aboard a fishing boat. They were from nine boats seized earlier this year for fishing in waters claimed by Russia in the North Pacific.

Daniel Is Apparent Winner In Texas Senate Primary

DALLAS, Aug. 26 (AP)—U. S. Sen. Price Daniel apparently edged out Ralph Yarborough today for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas on the basis of unofficial reports to the Texas Election Bureau.

The bureau reported that Daniel led by more votes than were unreported in its tabulations—but the official vote will not be certified by the Democratic party until Sept. 10.

Nomination almost assures election in this strongly Democratic state.

Latest totals gave Daniel 697,427 votes and Yarborough 692,134 with an estimated 5,295 ballots unreported.

On the final outcome of yesterday's balloting hinges the possibility that Texas could have a Republican senator, and the question of whether party loyalists will capture control of the state party machinery for two years.

National party loyalty was a key issue, Yarborough claimed to be "the only true Democrat" in the race. He pointed to Daniel's bolt to the GOP presidential ticket in 1952, when the state went Republican for the first time since the Herbert Hoover-Al Smith race, in 1928.

The State Democratic Executive Committee campaigned for the Republican presidential ticket.

Tabulators searched for a scattering of unreported ballots from the runoff primary—an election forced when neither candidate captured a majority of votes in the six-man July 28 first primary.

Robert Johnson, head of the Texas Election Bureau, said that on the basis of his estimate of the unreported vote, "it appears unlikely that Yarborough can overtake Daniel's lead."

The bureau is an unofficial vote-tabulating agency organized by newspapers. Johnson is an expert on election trends.

Yarborough did not concede defeat. "I'm going to win this race," he said.

Daniel expressed confidence he had won.

Republicans nominate for state offices by convention Tuesday.

Incumbent Gov. Allan Shivers, who will have served three terms and part of another, was not a candidate.

Yarborough, ardent party loyalist, pledged full support to the Democratic nominees for president and vice president, Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver.

Daniel refused to give unqualified support to the nominees.

This set the stage for a possible state bolt to the Republican column in November if Daniel is certified as winner, disagrees with Stevenson on some issue and has the political power to swing the state. Veteran political observers consider it unlikely, however, that Texas will go Republican this year.

Again, if Daniel is certified as winner, Texas faces the possibility of electing a Republican senator to succeed Daniel, whose term has two years to run.

Exploding Universe

Star Clusters Rush Toward Outer Space At Great Speed

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 26 (AP)—Some great star clusters in the far distant reaches of creation are rushing into outer space at a speed of 75,000 miles per second, an astronomer from Mt. Wilson and Palomar Observatories reported today.

This almost incredible velocity, 40 per cent of the speed of light, is faster by far than the movement of debris in the blast of an atom bomb, and it involves countless numbers of stars and other bodies of astronomical size.

The calculations involved suggest, the astronomer said, an infinitely expanding universe or something not far from it. The report was made to the American Astronomical Society by Dr. W. A. Baum, who used the great 200-inch Palomar telescope and some additional new equipment to obtain the results.

Dr. Baum's work further strengthens the theory that the universe is ballooning outward with ever-increasing speed, with no sign this progressive increase ever will stop. At every turn so far astronomers have found that the farther away stars are, the faster they are going.

Astronomers use the idea of curved space as a convenient mathematical conception to describe a four-dimensional picture of the universe, with time serving as the fourth dimension. It has nothing to do with things going around corners. It is rather a mathematical analogy of curvature in a three-dimensional space.

Nasser Is Ready For Suez Talks

Egypt Conference With Nations Set

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 26 (AP)—President Nasser was reported ready and willing today to talk over the Suez Canal crisis on his home grounds with a five-nation committee set up by the London Suez conference.

Sources close to the Egyptian government said Nasser had decided to meet the committee in Cairo, but would insist the entire Suez problem be explored, not just the majority plan for international control to be brought by the committee.

The five-nation committee, headed by Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia, was named at the end of the London conference last week to give Nasser an 18-nation proposal for placing the 103-mile waterway under an international authority on which Egypt would be just one of the members.

Sticks By Telephone
Menzies stuck by a telephone in his London hotel suite waiting for word from Nasser. Prime Minister Eden also stood by at his country home at Chequers. In London there was a feeling that the dispute, touched off by Nasser's seizure of the canal July 26, was approaching a crucial stage.

The Suez Canal Co., the internationally financed body that ran the canal until Nasser nationalized it, charged in a statement issued in London and Paris that Egypt was crippling efficiency of the canal.

The company served notice on the 18 nations supporting the international control plan that it is unable any longer to give protection to its employees in Egypt.

The safety of non-Egyptian workers in the canal zone, many wanting to return home, now becomes the responsibility of the states dealing with the crisis, the statement said.

To Meet Menzies
Cairo informants said Nasser decided to meet with Menzies mission after talking with representatives of the four-nation minority at the London Suez conference—Russia, India, Indonesia and Ceylon.

They were said to have assured him of their support for an international canal body that would be empowered only to give Egypt advice. Egypt would continue to operate the canal.

While refusing to accept any surrender of Egyptian sovereignty Nasser appeared eager for the widest possible negotiations to explore every alternative solution.

Nasser took this view in face of what appeared to be a rising threat of military action by Britain and France in case peaceful talks fail to produce a solution.

Blast Friday Is Detected As 'Unusual'

Eisenhower Renews
Plea For Control
Of Atomic Energy

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Aug. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower disclosed today that Russia has resumed nuclear weapon tests and that a blast detected last Friday—possibly a hydrogen explosion—had the force of almost one million tons of TNT.

This government put the blast in the category of "special interest" to the United States because of some "unusual fact" but did not spell out the reason for the special interest.

The announcement came from Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here. The President himself coupled it with a new plea emphasizing "the necessity for effective international control of atomic energy and such measures of adequately safeguarded disarmament as are now feasible." He added:

Goal Constantly Sought
"This is a goal which the United States has consistently sought and which has received the support of a large majority of the members of the United Nations."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference the latest Soviet blast last Friday was "almost" of megaton force. A megaton is the equivalent of one million tons of TNT.

Last Nov. 23 the United States announced a Soviet nuclear blast described as "the largest thus far" in Russia's proving grounds and "in the range of megatons."

Nikita Khrushchev, Communist party boss, later called it an explosion of "unprecedented might."

Hagerty was unable to say immediately whether the latest Soviet test involved explosion of a hydrogen device.

After checking with the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington, Hagerty called newsmen's attention to use of the word "nuclear" in the president's formal announcement.

13th Announcement
"A nuclear device can mean either atomic or hydrogen," Hagerty said. "And that is as far as I can go."

The President's announcement today was the 13th to the world by the United States of nuclear explosions by the Soviet Union. The first was on Sept. 23, 1949.

Eisenhower also made public a report to him on the latest Russian testing. It was prepared and submitted to him by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss said in part:

"The Soviet Union has resumed its testing of nuclear weapons and on Aug. 24, 1956, detonated a nuclear device with a yield less than a megaton at the usual Soviet proving ground."

"This proving ground, where most of the Soviet tests have occurred, is located in Southwest Siberia, north of India, Afghanistan and Pakistan, and west of China. In addition to this area, the Soviets have also utilized the area of the Barents Sea for nuclear testing."

As usual in disclosing Soviet nuclear tests, this government gave out no information of just how the new explosion was detected.

Richard said he had been in the little ravine "since yesterday." He was soaking wet from the rain and when searchers stripped off his wet clothing they got an immediate argument out of the plucky scout.

"I want my three dollars, give me my pants," Richard hollered. His wallet contained three one dollar bills.

Richard was placed on a stretcher and the long, dangerous climb downhill was begun. It was eight hours before Ipsut Creek ranger station was reached. He was taken to Enumclaw in an ambulance and then flown 30 miles to Seattle Sand Point naval air station.

Doctors today described his condition as "extremely good" considering the ordeal the boy had been through.

With him when he arrived in Seattle were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mizuhata, who had maintained a hopeful vigil on the mountainside ever since learning of his disappearance Sunday.

"I think Richard will be just fine as soon as he gets some rest and food," the father said. The boy apparently agreed.

Justice Warren Sees India's Damedar Valley

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 26 (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U. S. Supreme Court has had a good look at the site of India's proposed equivalent of the Tennessee Valley Authority. It's the Damedar Valley, where the power of three rivers is available for harnessing. Warren and his wife returned here today from a two-day tour of the valley.

As usual in disclosing Soviet nuclear tests, this government gave out no information of just how the new explosion was detected.

ORANIENBURG, East Germany, Aug. 26 (AP)—Russia pulled an air division out of Communist East Germany today and in a farewell show gave a surprise display of its new secret jet fighter.

Seventy Ilyushin-28 jet bombers took off presumably for Russia as East Germany's Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz in a big propaganda demonstration demanded withdrawal of Allied units from West Germany.

More than 10,000 persons at Oranienburg airfield got a peek at the new Soviet jet—a long silver MIG19. But only a few spectators realized they were glimpsing the Russian challenge to America's new F9 jet fighter.

The sleek, twin-engine MIG19 sneaked over the airfield as most eyes were riveted on a demonstration of big Soviet troop-carrying helicopters. Seven four-plane flights of MIG17 fighters already had flashed overhead and the flypast was thought ended.

Suddenly the MIG19 came in low over the field, exploded its afterburner jet booster as it passed the reviewing stand and whooshed away at supersonic speed.

Allied air observers said this was the first hint the new fighter may be seeing service at Russia's forward bases in Germany. They said the MIG never before has been spotted and identified outside of recent Moscow air shows.

Russian officers refused to comment on the MIG19 or even identify it as such.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 26 (AP)—The known death toll of a windstorm that struck divided Germany yesterday rose today to 10. Police said seven were killed in West Germany, one in Berlin and two in East Germany. The storm damage was estimated unofficially at about a million dollars.

20 Persons Die In India Floods

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 26 (AP)—At least 20 persons were reported dead today in seasonal floods which have swept wide sections of northern India the past week.

News reaching New Delhi today indicated thousands are homeless and hundreds of acres of crops ruined.

Mrs. Pinza said her husband's fatigue resulted from the long run of "Fanny."

Daniel Is Apparent Winner In Texas Senate Primary

DALLAS, Aug. 26 (AP)—U. S. Sen. Price Daniel apparently edged out Ralph Yarborough today for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas on the basis of unofficial reports to the Texas Election Bureau.

The bureau reported that Daniel led by more votes than were reported in its tabulations—but the official vote will not be certified by the Democratic party until Sept. 10.

Nomination almost assures election in this strongly Democratic state.

Latest totals gave Daniel 697,427 votes and Yarborough 692,134 with an estimated 5,295 ballots unreported.

On the final outcome of yesterday's balloting hinges the possibility that Texas could have a Republican senator, and the question of whether party loyalists will capture control of the state party machinery for two years.

National party loyalty was a key issue. Yarborough claimed to be "the only true Democrat" in the race. He pointed to Daniel's bolt to the GOP presidential ticket in 1952, when the state went Republican for the first time since the Herbert Hoover-Al Smith race, in 1928. The State Democratic Executive Committee campaigned for the Republican presidential ticket.

Tabulators searched for a scattering of unreported ballots from the runoff primary—an election forced when neither candidate captured a majority of votes in the six-man July 28 first primary. Robert Johnson, head of the Texas Election Bureau, said that on the basis of his estimate of the unreported vote, "it appears unlikely that Yarborough can overtake Daniel's lead."

The bureau is an unofficial vote-tabulating agency organized by newspapers. Johnson is an expert on election trends.

Yarborough did not concede defeat. "I'm going to win this race," he said.

Republicans nominate for state offices by convention Tuesday.

Incumbent Gov. Allan Shivers, who will have served three terms and part of another, was not a candidate.

Yarborough, ardent party loyalist, pledged full support to the Democratic nominees for president and vice president, Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver.

Daniel refused to give unequalled support to the nominees.

This set the stage for a possible state bolt to the Republican column in November if Daniel is certified as winner, disagrees with Stevenson on some issue and has the political power to swing the state. Veteran political observers consider it unlikely, however, that Texas will go Republican this year.

Again, if Daniel is certified as winner, Texas faces the possibility of electing a Republican senator to succeed Daniel, whose term has two years to run.

Exploding Universe Star Clusters Rush Toward Outer Space At Great Speed

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 26 (AP)—Some great star clusters in the far distant reaches of creation are rushing on into outer space at a speed of 75,000 miles per second, an astronomer from Mt. Wilson and Palomar Observatories reported today.

This almost incredible velocity, 40 per cent of the speed of light, is faster by far than the movement of debris in the blast of an atom bomb, and it involves countless numbers of suns and other bodies of astronomical size.

The calculations involved suggest, the astronomer said, an infinitely expanding universe or something not far from it. The report was made to the American Astronomical Society by Dr. W. A. Baum, who used the great 200-inch Palomar telescope and some additional new equipment to obtain the results.

Dr. Baum's work further strengthens the theory that the universe is ballooning outward with ever-increasing speed, with no sign this progressive increase ever will stop. At every turn so far astronomers have found that the farther away stars are, the faster they are going.

Dr. Baum found these results in observing a group of galaxies known as Cluster 1448. Figuring this cluster increases its speed by 30 miles per second for every million light years of its travel, it is now 1.8 billion light years away, he said. A light year is the distance traveled by a ray of light in one year—about six million million miles.

The results could be interpreted, Dr. Baum said, as indicating the outward speed will continue to increase but perhaps not quite so much as it has up to now. This would suggest a slightly curved universe rather than a wide open straight-out expanding one. However, the data do not fit another theory which holds that the universe is rather a finite, curved closed system, he added.

Astronomers use the idea of curved space as a convenient mathematical conception to describe a four-dimensional picture of the universe, with time serving as the fourth dimension. It has nothing to do with things going around corners. It is rather a mathematical analogy of curvature in a three-dimensional space.

Nasser Is Ready For Suez Talks

Egypt Conference With Nations Set

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 26 (AP)—President Nasser was reported ready and willing today to talk over the Suez Canal crisis on his home grounds with a five-nation committee set up by the London Suez conference.

Sources close to the Egyptian government said Nasser had decided to meet the committee in Cairo, but would insist the entire Suez problem be explored, not just the majority plan for international control to be brought by the committee.

The five-nation committee, headed by Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia, was named at the end of the London conference last week to give Nasser an 18-nation proposal for placing the 103-mile waterway under an international authority on which Egypt would be just one of the members.

Sticks By Telephone
Menzies stuck by a telephone in his London hotel suite waiting for word from Nasser, Prime Minister Eden also stood by at his country home at Chequers. In London there was a feeling that the dispute, touched off by Nasser's seizure of the canal July 26, was approaching a crucial stage.

The Suez Canal Co., the internationally financed body that ran the canal until Nasser nationalized it, charged in a statement issued in London and Paris that Egypt was crippling efficiency of the canal.

The company served notice on the 18 nations supporting the international control plan that it is unable any longer to give protection to its employees in Egypt.

The safety of non-Egyptian workers in the canal zone, many wanting to return home, now becomes the responsibility of the states dealing with the crisis, the statement said.

To Meet Menzies
Cairo informants said Nasser decided to meet with Menzies mission after talking with representatives of the four-nation minority at the London Suez conference—Russia, India, Indonesia and Ceylon.

They were said to have assured him of their support for an international canal body that would be empowered only to give Egypt advice. Egypt would continue to operate the canal.

While refusing to accept any surrender of Egyptian sovereignty Nasser appeared eager for the widest possible negotiations to explore every alternative solution.

Nasser took this view in face of what appeared to be a rising threat of military action by Britain and France in case peaceful talks fail to produce a solution.

Justice Warren Sees India's Damedar Valley

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 26 (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U. S. Supreme Court has had a good look at the site of India's proposed equivalent of the Tennessee Valley Authority. It's the Damedar Valley, where the power of three rivers is available for harnessing. Warren and his wife returned here today from a two-day tour of the valley.

From Santa Fe, the party will proceed to meetings in daily succession at Vancouver, Wash. Tuesday; Sioux City, Iowa, Wednesday; Knoxville, Tenn. Thursday, and Chicago, Friday.

Stevenson will formally open his campaign Monday, Sept. 3, with a Labor Day address at Detroit and a series of Democratic rallies in that industrial city.

Rock Slide Endangers Four

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 26 (AP)—Tons of earth broke away from the Pacific Palisades today carrying four women picnickers down from a 175-foot high bluff.

The cascade of earth also slammed into an auto moving along Pacific Coast Highway U. S. 101.

No one was seriously hurt.

The landslide poured across the highway and crashed into a garage, completely blocking the highway. The nearby homes of actor Peter Lawford and director Darryl Zanuck barely escaped being hit.

The picnickers told police they had just set up their table when the landslide occurred. "There wasn't the slightest warning," said Mrs. Eugene Baughman, 72, of Los Angeles. "We just went."

Other members in the party were Mrs. Maude Hankerson, Mrs. Lucille Glenn and Mrs. Norah Hayward, Los Angeles. They were taken to Santa Monica Emergency Hospital.

Boy Scout, Lost 6 Days, Found Alive On Mt. Rainier

SEATTLE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Richard Mizuhata, 13-year-old Seattle Boy Scout who survived six days on the treacherous slopes of Mt. Rainier with virtually no food or water, ate a big breakfast in a Seattle hospital today. Then he announced he "planned to eat a big lunch, too."

The small, shy Japanese-American boy was snatched from the woody area of the Carbon River section of the Mt. Rainier National Park yesterday, nearly a week after he had become separated from 13 other scouts on a hiking trip.

During that time all he had to eat was a few candy bars and water from the mountain streams. His only injuries were a sprained ankle and a small cut on the forehead.

Richard was first seen yesterday by Paul Uno, a member of a search team which had been part of a vast crew seeking the youth during every daylight hour this week.

"How did you know I was lost?" the lad asked Uno when the searcher found him huddled in his sleeping bag on a large rock in the middle of a stream at the 14,500 foot level.

Blast Friday Is Detected As 'Unusual'

Eisenhower Renews Plea For Control Of Atomic Energy

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Aug. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower disclosed today that Russia has resumed nuclear weapon tests and that a blast detected last Friday—possibly a hydrogen explosion—had the force of almost one million tons of TNT.

This government put the blast in the category of "special interest" to the United States because of some "unusual fact" but did not spell out the reason for the special interest.

The announcement came from Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here. The President himself coupled it with a new plea emphasizing "the necessity for effective international control of atomic energy and such measures of adequately safeguarded disarmament as are now feasible." He added:

Goal Constantly Sought
"This is a goal which the United States has consistently sought and which has received the support of a large majority of the members of the United Nations."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference the latest Soviet blast last Friday was "almost" of megaton force. A megaton is the equivalent of one million tons of TNT.

Last Nov. 23 the United States announced a Soviet nuclear blast described as "the largest thus far" in Russia's proving grounds and "in the range of megatons."

Nikita Khrushchev, Communist party boss, later called it an explosion of "unprecedented might."

Hagerty was unable to say immediately whether the latest Soviet test involved explosion of a hydrogen device.

After checking with the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington, Hagerty called newsmen's attention to use of the word "nuclear" in the president's formal announcement.

13th Announcement
"A nuclear device can mean either atomic or hydrogen," Hagerty said. "And that is as far as I can go."

The President's announcement today was the 13th to the world by the United States of nuclear explosions by the Soviet Union. The first was on Sept. 23, 1949.

Eisenhower also made public a report to him on the latest Russian testing. It was prepared and submitted to him by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss said in part:

"The Soviet Union has resumed its testing of nuclear weapons and on Aug. 24, 1956, detonated a nuclear device with a yield less than a megaton at the usual Soviet proving ground."

"This proving ground, where most of the Soviet tests have occurred, is located in Southwest Siberia, north of India, Afghanistan and Pakistan, and west of China. In addition to this area, the Soviets have also utilized the area of the Barents Sea for nuclear testing."

As usual in disclosing Soviet nuclear tests, this government gave out no information of just how the new explosion was detected.

Richard said he had been in the little ravine "since yesterday." He was soaking wet from the rain and when searchers stripped off his wet clothing they got an immediate argument out of the plucky scout.

"I want my three dollars, give me my pants," Richard hollered. His wallet contained three one dollar bills.

Richard was placed on a stretcher and the long, dangerous climb downhill was begun. It was eight hours before Ipsut Creek ranger station was reached. He was taken to Enumclaw in an ambulance and then flown 30 miles to Seattle Sand Point naval air station.

Doctors today described his condition as "extremely good" considering the ordeal the boy had been through.

With him when he arrived in Seattle were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mizuhata, who had maintained a hopeful vigil on the mountainside ever since learning of his disappearance Sunday.

"I think Richard will be just fine as soon as he gets some rest and food," the father said.

The boy apparently agreed.

Repair Work To Garrett Co. Graded Schools To Continue

OAKLAND—A complete renovation and repair job for the Center Street Primary Grades School and the Friendsville Elementary School has been finished, according to the Board of Education. This work was begun at the close of school by the two regular maintenance men, Melvin Sisler and Willoughby Callis, and by school custodians and extra helpers under the general supervision of O. T. Graser, supervisor of maintenance for the county.

Both schools have been given a complete renovation. Included in the work done are such items as repairing of window sash, new roofing, painting of the outside and all classrooms, corridors, toilets, all purpose rooms inside, laying of asphalt tile flooring for all floor space, installation of acoustical ceilings where needed, addition of new shelving, and cloak rooms for each classroom, reconditioning of furniture and the addition of some new furniture, placing all toilets in clean and sanitary condition, re-modeling cafeteria facilities for the Center Street School, addition of bulletin boards and resurfacing of all chalkboards, addition of new drinking fountains and many other repairs too numerous to mention.

Along with the other program, the addition of two new rooms at Red House and the complete renovation of the old building has been completed by the contractor, William A. Shirer, and the classrooms in the old portion of the building will be renovated and ready for the opening of school on September 4. However, the remaining work at Red House, to be done by the county maintenance men, will not be completed until about October 1. This entails exterior painting, new exterior doors, repairs to window sash, removal of partitions in basement and conversion of this area into cafeteria and all purpose room, as well as numerous other improvements.

When completed, excellent facilities for a rural four room school will be provided for the children at Red House School, it was stated.

The two schools which have been completed, Center Street and Friendsville, will hold "open house" Sunday, September 2, from 2 to 5 p. m. "Open house" for Red House School will be deferred until a later date.

The two new buildings for which plans are about complete, and two more summers of renovation work on old buildings will be needed to complete the goal of the Garrett County Board of Education.

The Auto Picture Is Pointed Up

Discontinuance of passenger car manufacturing by Packard, one of the oldest and at one time most respected names of the American automobile scene, focuses new attention on the plight of one of this country's basic industries. Admittedly, the auto makers have had rough sledding since the end of the Korean War, when the post-World War II demand for new cars was finally reached and surpassed.

Although the "Big Three"—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—have had their share of troubles during this period of transition from a seller's to a buyer's market, it is not surprising that the hardest hit were the smallest companies. The big question in the minds of economists, as they reappraise the industry today, is whether the Packard incident will be a solitary ruffle in the comparative calm, or will there be a series of tranquility disturbing actions similar to the consolidations of the past two years?

Initial surveys seem to indicate the auto industry is beginning to pull itself out of deep water by cutting its stockpile of new cars. Since March the on hand stock of new cars in the U. S. has declined approximately one-third, from 900,000 units to 600,000. If this trend continues, there is a likelihood that many dealers will have sold most of their 1956 models before the 1957 creations make their appearance in the fall.

Retail dealers have been favored this summer by two factors: An unusually light upsurge in sales during the early part of the season has developed into a heavier than usual summer demand, and there is no doubt that 1957 models will be priced higher because of the increased cost of steel.

It thus appears the industry is slowly aligning itself to meet changing conditions, and the closing of Packard is probably an unfortunate, isolated occurrence instead of the first of a new series of upheavals.

These Days

Joe Smith

Is there a Joe Smith?
Of course, in every town and village in the United States, there is a Joe Smith of some kind, a fellow who went to school, maybe to high school, maybe even to some kind of college; who fought in World War II or maybe even in the Korean War; who runs a store or an insurance office, or is a realtor or mortician; who belongs to Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions or something, who belongs to the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars; who usually voted Republican but sometimes Democratic or for nobody.

Joe Smith goes to church most Sundays and also to the men's club of his church on Wednesday nights. He thinks that his minister is a learned man and is a good guy. Joe is married, has a couple of kids and owns two cars, thus fulfilling the Republican hope for two cars in every garage, or was it two chickens in every pot? Joe is neither a common man nor an average man. He is just Joe Smith, citizen.

So Joe Smith's name was mentioned at the Republican Convention at San Francisco for vice president. Why not? Is there any harm in mentioning a name? It got a laugh. Everybody had decided unanimously to nominate Richard Nixon for vice president. Harold Stassen had capitulated after three weeks of playing at independence.

But out of Nebraska came a voice of non-conformity—one out of more than 1,800. That is strong, powerful, unmistakable non-conformity. It is of the stuff that made Emerson and Thoreau. It is really of the stuff that made America.

They all laughed. No, not all. Some were angry when Mr. Carpenter of Nebraska said that he wanted to nominate Joe Smith. And he wanted to nominate Joe Smith because the convention was dull and dry-as-dust and it had been arranged for television and the delegates were really behaving too well and who wants to be regimented like a bunch of dancers all raising their arms and legs to the same beat and nobody stepping out of line.

True, Carpenter will get the devil from his wife when he gets back home, but the boys will slap him on the back for stopping the show over in the Cow Palace in San Francisco where everybody did everything unanimously and nobody even said boo to a goose. Yes, the boys will slap him on the back and maybe, they will even buy him a cigar, because old Carpenter, he stopped the unanimous show and he gave the reporters and television boys, the wrong number, his own telephone number in this little town—do I need to remember the name—out there in Nebraska.

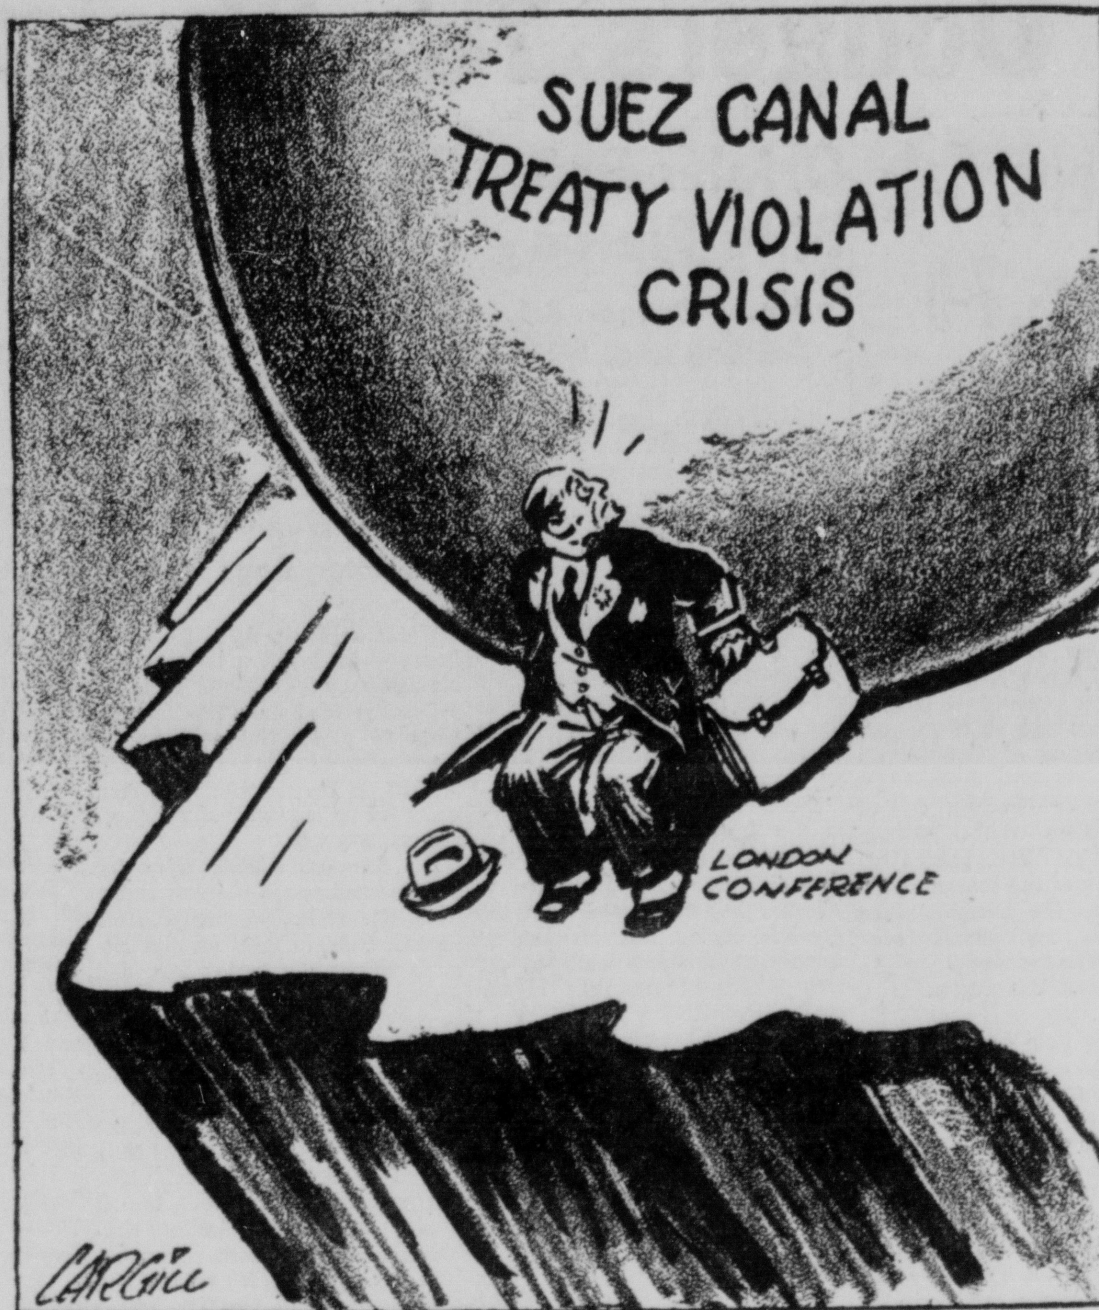

Sure, they all telephoned at once and all they got was a busy signal, until someone reached the missus who said there ain't no Joe Smith at that place. The missus knew what she was talking about because she saw it all on television along with the ads of razors and automobiles and dish-washing machines and the female announcers competing with the orators for time and attention. The missus had seen it all and she was kind of sneaking proud of her boy that he stood out in the Republican Convention like a sore thumb. Why not?

If Harry Truman could do it at Chicago, why couldn't her man do it at San Francisco? But did you see Bess' face? Yes, the womenfolks, they have to keep things right by giving the menfolks hell. Yes, she would give Carpenter hell when he got back from the convention; she would say he was celebrating, which he shouldn't have been, but she would bake a cake and cook him some pancakes oozing with butter and syrup and covered with good country sausage. That's what she'd do to show him that she was giving him hell, because that's what Bess gave Harry, but there is no hard-feeling about it. No, sir!

And so, here's to Joe Smith, mentioned for vice president once, on the memorable August 22, 1956, and forgotten immediately after. He is the symbol of liberty to think, to speak, to be wise or stupid, to laugh or cry, to be in order or out of order, to defy authority and tradition and the commands of the great.

God bless Joe Smith.

Behind The 1888 Ball

Ike Credited With Restoring Unity To America

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

SAN FRANCISCO

The President's acceptance speech had not been delivered before those around him began talking jubilantly about a very different sort of campaign from the one discussed thus far.

White House staff men are happily thanking the Democrats for the personal attacks on Eisenhower that were heard at Chicago, as though the other party's spokesmen had done their staffwork for them. The President, who has been left off wonderfully easily in the last three and three-quarters years, has not developed a politician's normal insensitivity to partisan criticism. It appears that the Democrats' denunciations—and especially their references to "a part-time President"—angered him deeply and made him eager for the fray ahead.

Seem Healthy Confident

For this reason, those close to Eisenhower are now predicting that he will make at least eight and probably more television appearances, instead of the five or six originally projected. They are even predicting that he will take the stump, at least in a limited and dignified way, in the states where it will do most good. And although the television screen still emphasizes his enduring loss of weight, the President in the flesh seemed to glow with health and confidence in this high moment here in San Francisco. Looking at him responding to the fervent adulation of the city and his party, one could well believe he might end by plunging into the thick of the battle and staying in the front line until he was sure of victory.

Watching him in action, one could not help but think back to four years ago, when a not very enthusiastic and visibly untired Eisenhower came before the Republican Convention to make an obviously sincere but heavy and shambling acceptance speech. Then, you would have said he would never make a politician.

But now he is a new master of the political art, who has stolen or quietly muffled just about every issue the Democrats could possibly use against him, except the single unavoidable issue of his health (which is one more reason for suspecting that he will end by doing some cross-country stumping, for there is no more effective way for him to muffle the health issue, too).

Ike Commands Admiration

In pure political terms, in truth, the performance of the first Eisenhower years has been nothing less than brilliant. But it is not only the political agility and astuteness of this performance that commands admiration. By patience and wisdom, the President has not just united a party that was sadly divided, but he has given his political opponents a steeply uphill row to hoe.

By the same patience and wisdom, the President has also united a country that was sadly divided, and given an astonishing new impetus to America's productive power. Of the prosperity which we now enjoy, it is surely needless to speak at any length. Anyone can see it all around us, despite the unevenness of distribution that has angered the farmers. But the unity of America that Eisenhower has achieved, it is not possible to speak too long or too enthusiastically.

This has been his greatest gift—to end the civil war of the spirit that was tearing and rending and embittering this country, and bring back a decent, seemingly concord among Americans. Four years ago, no man trusted his neighbor, and there were moments when it seemed as though every decent American tradition would finally be

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Like King Brothers' Circus the political glass-snake has put itself together again.

The King Brothers halved itself in Stroudsburg and Middletown. The parliamentary sideshow chose Chicago and San Francisco. Now they are all on the road again with the plebeite gaping at the stenciled frescoes on the tattooed lady.

The constituency will gander the 24 sheets, look at the street parade and watch the show. Then on an irrevocable Tuesday in November it will reverse the merit system of Hollywood by awarding the trophy to Oscar.

From what we learned from the twin-bedlams the Democrats will accentuate reform, economy, prosperity, peace, living wages, good roads, adequate housing and your choice of 28 flavors of ice cream.

The Republicans will add air conditioning, cross-town transfers, two hours for lunch and green trading stamps.

So it doesn't make much difference who cops the nod in November. The great John L. Sullivan said it all in New Orleans. The title remains in America.

The summary of the corn-mills indicates the Democrats are better talkers than the Republicans. That fellow from Tennessee sure blew the bungle out of the molasses barrel.

Down our way we don't have to worry about putting marks in squares or circles. There's an obliging fellow in the election booth who does all that work for us.

Kefauver Was Urged To Stay Out Of Chicago Vice Presidential Race

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Many inquiries have been received about the last hectic day of the Chicago Convention—it was really an open race? Did the Democrats plan it that way? What really happened behind the scenes when Estes Kefauver finally nosed out Senator Jack Kennedy for vice president?

For sheer drama, no other political race in years has come anywhere near the Chicago windup. So here is the full story of that exciting photo finish:

After Adlai Stevenson notified the convention that the choice of vice president would be wide open, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas were indignant. They had managed to keep the civil rights issue from splitting the Democratic party; now they feared ballot after ballot over the vice presidency would prolong the convention, arouse bitterness. They urged Stevenson to change his mind. He refused.

Rayburn and Johnson therefore contacted the major delegations—New York, Illinois, etc.—and arranged that each state would vote for whomever it pleased on the first ballot, then ditch favorite sons and narrow the race down to the two leading contenders.

Frantic Night

There followed a night of frantic maneuvering. Johnson and Rayburn put in call after call trying to block Kefauver. They did not know that Kefauver almost did not run.

His top advisers, Jiggs Donohue, ex-Attorney General Howard McGrath, and Dick Wallace, went into a midnight huddle, urged Kefauver to stay out of the race. They figured Stevenson had made a secret deal with another candidate. They knew Stevenson had told Truman that he didn't trust Kefauver.

The Tennessee senator listened patiently. Nancy, his wife, and Col. Bill Roberts, his treasurer, urged him to stay in the race. He did.

Kefauver's decision came just after 1 a. m. Within an hour, political lieutenants rounded up 700 people for a 2 a. m. rally in the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Delegate after delegate bobbed up to tell how important it was to nominate "Keef."

At 3:30 a. m., a smaller group of delegates huddled with Colonel Roberts to arrange strategy. Floor leaders were assigned to each delegation. A communications system was arranged, with Roberts in control at the Stock Yards Inn, whereby leaders could send word to Kefauver men through the turmoil of the convention floor.

Kennedy's Father Phones

Senator Kennedy was also busy through the night. His father, millionaire Joseph Patrick Kennedy, first chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, chairman of the Maritime Commission, ambassador to England, was rewarded richly by Roosevelt, but wavered repeatedly about supporting Roosevelt. He raised money for Joe McCarthy, huddled with Cardinal Spellman and McCarthy. The younger Kennedy, a down-the-line Democrat, has differed with his father, made a fine senator.

Kennedy had three separate headquarters in Chicago, spent considerable money.

During the night, the elder Kennedy was on the Trans-Atlantic phone from Nice, France. A heavy contributor to Democratic coffers, he placed a dozen calls to leaders in Chicago.

International Affairs

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Readers are naturally interested in what I think may cause the next stock market decline. I have heretofore discussed the domestic political situation, which could be very much upset by President Eisenhower's physical condition; also the fact that many purchasers on installments are getting physically and mentally tired with "keeping up with Lizzie." Therefore, this week I will confine myself to the international situation.

Communism On The Decline

I think that the Russian leaders, who are primarily interested in holding their own jobs, believe that they now have a better chance of spreading communism through diplomacy than through threatened violence. The first step in such a campaign was the discrediting of Stalin. The second step has been apologizing to Tito for various things they have done. The real reason for their change is that communism is contrary to human nature. These Russian leaders now believe it must be brought about slowly and cannot be forced.

The real conflict will be between the East and the West. The Russian leaders are trying to consolidate the eastern half of the world, including China, India, and the East Indies, and forget Europe and North and South America.

What Washington Knows

This situation has been carefully discussed behind closed doors in Senate committee rooms. These select committees have been told things that the public does not yet know. The White House and our leading statesmen are correct in following this policy until they find the answer; then it will be told to the people.

This news could greatly affect general business. Certainly our several hundred thousand soldiers in Europe could be withdrawn and defense appropriations would be reduced. This would harm some industries and localities, while other industries would be helped.

To summarize my thoughts, I herewith give 10 brief forecasts.

(1) Both political parties will make an effort to keep this inside information secret until after November 6 of this year.

(2) Our European allies are

Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota scurried for votes. His own Minnesota delegation was against him. But as the balloting started, Neil Stabler, a Michigan delegate, went to Kefauver's headquarters at the Stock Yards Inn and proposed that Kefauver give Humphrey the Minnesota votes as a courtesy.

Kefauver advisers were opposed. They argued it was too risky, that Humphrey might roll up too many votes on the first ballot, so many he could defeat Kefauver later. Humphrey was then considered Kefauver's No. 1 rival.

Bob Short, Kefauver leader inside the Minnesota delegation, flatly opposed any concession to Humphrey. But Kefauver ruled otherwise. So Short agreed to throw all Minnesota's 30 votes to Humphrey.

The First Ballot

At 12 o'clock noon Kefauver had time to take a shower and change his clothes. He had been up most of the night. In a nearby room in the Stock Yards Inn, Senator Kennedy began to run the water in his bathtub. He, too, had been up most of the night.

The balloting began. Kennedy rolled up surprising strength—304 votes. Big blocs of Southern votes went for him—Georgia, Virginia, Arkansas—states which in 1928 attacked Al Smith because of his religion. Humphrey trailed with only 134½ votes. Gore polled 178; Kefauver led with 483½.

TV men arrived at Kennedy's room, found him in undershorts. "No pictures," he said. "I think Estes is going to win anyway."

Public's Attitudes Toward Epilepsy Are Changing

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The person with epilepsy should be happy he lives in this generation; more than 75 per cent of victims of this disease can lead a normal life. Prior to the development of modern remedies, treatment was based on folklore.

Almost everything animal, vegetable, and mineral was used to control seizures. Nostrums included chicken's claws, mole's blood, and frog's gall. Imagine the torture of living in a Russian village where it was believed that in individual with a convulsion was overpowered by a demon. Treating consisted of beating the sufferer with a sacred chain to force the evil spirit to leave.

In other parts of the world people thought the demon was inside the head and, to allow the devil to escape, it was necessary to drill or knock holes into the skull (trephining).

In a later era, the patient was forced to lead a sheltered life. He was never exposed to wind or sudden changes in temperature. Moisture was blamed for precipitating the fits and baths were out of the question. Epileptics could not marry or mingle with the opposite sex. When an epileptic woman became pregnant she was buried alive and the father of the child was castrated.

The stigma surrounding epilepsy was still evident 25 years ago. Some parents were ashamed to take their afflicted child to the family physician and bought medication through the mails. A few unfortunate epileptics spent their life in the attic because the disease was considered a family curse.

But the days of devils, demons, and magic are over. We now know that epilepsy consists of a group of symptoms produced by alterations in the brain waves. This leads to periodic transient episodes of loss of consciousness, which may be associated with convulsions or disturbances in feeling or behavior.

Our modern medicines have done a miraculous job but we do not have an ideal drug that is safe and equally effective in all types of epilepsy. This is not a serious handicap, however, because there is a wide choice of remedies for the different kinds of seizures and if one fails, combinations of drugs may be used successfully.

But the use of these agents requires diligence and patience on the part of the epileptic and his family. Switching from one to another calls for a period of trial and error and is not suggested unless the current medication is not proving satisfactory.

FOODS AND ASTHMA

D. C. writes: Could eating certain foods make bronchial asthma worse? I seem to wheeze more when I eat corn, strawberries, and chocolate.

REPLY

Yes. The majority of asthmatics are sensitive to an inhalant, but some are allergic to foods. In this respect you may have uncovered the cause of your condition. Special tests would be needed to confirm your suspicions. Meanwhile send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on bronchial asthma.

OTHER THERAPY BETTER

P. W. writes: Are the lungs collapsed in treating tuberculosis?

REPLY

The efficacy of our new medications and surgical procedures has lessened the need for collapse therapy.

OLD TERM

A. G. writes: When I was a kid 50 years ago I often heard the term galloping consumption. What was this disease?

REPLY

Tuberculosis of the lungs. In those days the victim often galloped to a quick death.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

A wealthy old gent was napping on his couch when two 6-year-olds barged in looking for his grandson. "Hey, Butch!" hollered one. "Ssh," cautioned the other, "I think grandpop's asleep."

The old gent kept his eyes closed, hoping the intruders would buzz off, but the next thing he knew, tiny fingers had pried open one of his eyelids, and a youngster's voice was piping. "Yep, he's in there, all right!"

"You should have been living in Hoboken when I was a boy," reminisced old Mr. Schultz. "The water supply was never adequate. People had to boil and reboil it so they could use it over and over again."

The Auto Picture Is Pointed Up

Discontinuance of passenger car manufacturing by Packard, one of the oldest and at one time most respected names of the American automobile scene, focuses new attention on the plight of one of this country's basic industries. Admittedly, the auto makers have had rough sledding since the end of the Korean War, when the post-World War II demand for new cars was finally reached and surpassed.

Although the "Big Three"—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—have had their share of troubles during this period of transition from a seller's to a buyer's market, it is not surprising that the hardest hit were the smallest companies. The big question in the minds of economists, as they reappraise the industry today, is whether the Packard incident will be a solitary ruffle in the comparative calm, or will there be a series of tranquility disturbing actions similar to the consolidations of the past two years?

Initial surveys seem to indicate the auto industry is beginning to pull itself out of deep water by cutting its stockpile of new cars. Since March the on hand stock of new cars in the U. S. has declined approximately one-third, from 900,000 units to 600,000. If this trend continues, there is a likelihood that many dealers will have sold most of their 1956 models before the 1957 creations make their appearance in the fall.

Retail dealers have been favored this summer by two factors: An unusually light upsurge in sales during the early part of the season has developed into a heavier than usual summer demand, and there is no doubt that 1957 models will be priced higher because of the increased cost of steel.

It thus appears the industry is slowly aligning itself to meet changing conditions, and the closing of Packard is probably an unfortunate, isolated occurrence instead of the first of a new series of upheavals.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Joe Smith

Is there a Joe Smith?
Of course, in every town and village in the United States, there is a Joe Smith of some kind, a fellow who went to school, maybe to high school, maybe even to some kind of college; who fought in World War II or maybe even in the Korean War; who runs a store or an insurance office, or is a realtor or mortician; who belongs to Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions or something, who belongs to the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars; who usually voted Republican but sometimes Democratic or for nobody.
Joe Smith goes to church most Sundays and also to the men's club of his church on Wednesday nights. He thinks that his minister is a learned man and is a good guy. Joe is married, has a couple of kids and owns two cars, thus fulfilling the Republican hope for two cars in every garage, or was it two chickens in every pot? Joe is neither a common man nor an average man. He is just Joe Smith, citizen.

So Joe Smith's name was mentioned at the Republican Convention at San Francisco for vice president. Why not? Is there any harm in mentioning a name? It got a laugh. Everybody had decided unanimously to nominate Richard Nixon for vice president. Harold Stassen had capitulated after three weeks of playing at independence.

But out of Nebraska came a voice of non-conformity—one out of more than 1,200. That is strong, powerful, unmistakable non-conformity. It is of the stuff that made Emerson and Thoreau. It is really of the stuff that made America.

They all laughed. No, not all. Some were angry when Mr. Carpenter of Nebraska said that he wanted to nominate Joe Smith. And he wanted to nominate Joe Smith because the convention was dull and dry-as-dust and it had been arranged for television and the delegates were really behaving too well and who wants to be regimented like a bunch of dancers all raising their arms and legs to the same beat and nobody stepping out of line.

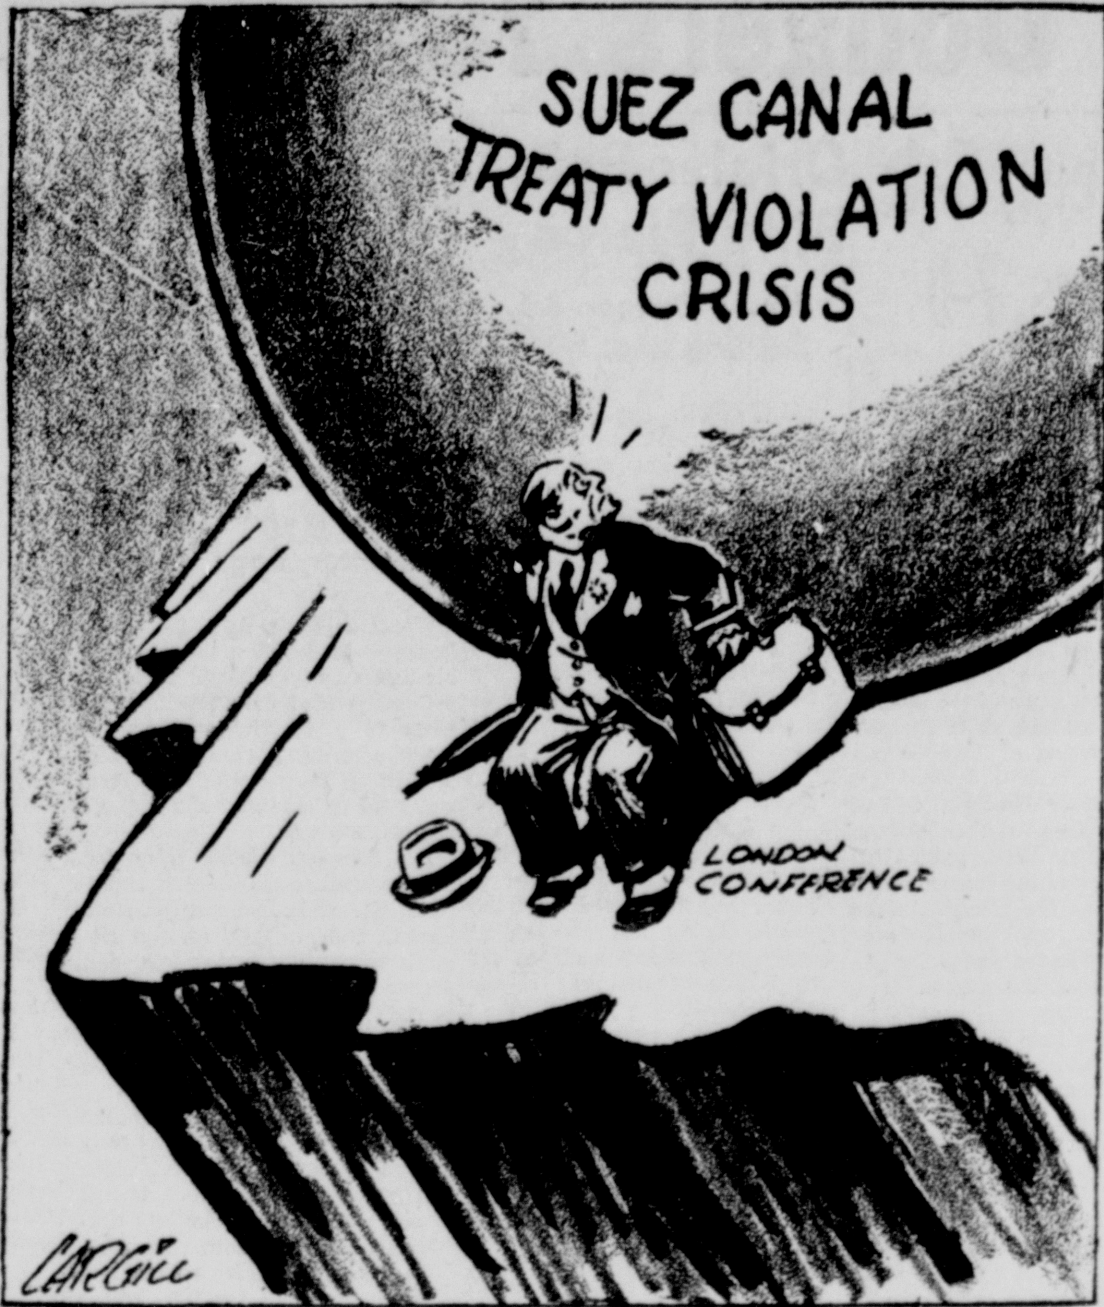

True, Carpenter will get the devil from his wife when he gets back home, but the boys will slap him on the back for stopping the show over in the Cow Palace in San Francisco where everybody did everything unanimously and nobody even said boo to a goose. Yes, the boys will slap him on the back and maybe, they will even buy him a cigar, because old Carpenter, he stopped the unanimous show and he gave the reporters and television boys, the wrong number, his own telephone number in this little town — do I need to remember the name — out there in Nebraska.

Sure, they all telephoned at once and all they got was a busy signal, until someone reached the missus who said there ain't no Joe Smith at that place. The missus knew what she was talking about because she saw it all on television along with the ads of razors and automobiles and dish-washing machines and the female announcers competing with the orators for time and attention. The missus had seen it all and she was kind of sneaking proud of her boy that he stood out in the Republican Convention like a sore thumb. Why not?

If Harry Truman could do it at Chicago, why couldn't her man do it at San Francisco? But did you see Bess' face? Yes, the womenfolks, they have to keep things right by giving the menfolks hell. Yes, she would give Carpenter hell when he got back from the convention; she would say he was celebrating, which he shouldn't have been, but she would bake a cake and cook him some pancakes oozing with butter and syrup and covered with good country sausage. That's what she'd do to show him that she was giving him hell, because that's what Bess gave Harry, but there is no hard-feeling about it. No, sir!

And so, here's to Joe Smith, mentioned for vice president once, on the memorable August 22, 1956, and forgotten immediately after. He is the symbol of liberty to think, to speak, to be wise or stupid, to laugh or cry, to be in order or out of order, to defy authority and tradition and the commands of the great.
God bless Joe Smith.

Behind The 1888 Ball

Ike Credited With Restoring Unity To America

SAN FRANCISCO

The President's acceptance speech had not been delivered before those around him began talking jubilantly about a very different sort of campaign from the one discussed thus far.

White House staff men are happily thanking the Democrats for the personal attacks on Eisenhower that were heard at Chicago, as though the other party's spokesmen had done their staffwork for them. The President, who has been let off wonderfully easily in the last three and three-quarters years, has not developed a politician's normal insensitivity to partisan criticism. It appears that the Democrats' denunciations — and especially their references to "a part-time President" — angered him deeply and made him eager for the fray ahead.

Seem Healthy Confident

For this reason, those close to Eisenhower are now predicting that he will make at least eight and probably more television appearances, instead of the five or six originally projected. They are even predicting that he will take the stump, at least in a limited and dignified way, in the states where it will do most good. And although the television screen still emphasizes his enduring loss of weight, the President in the flesh seemed to glow with health and confidence in this high moment here in San Francisco. Looking at him responding to the fervent adulation of the city and his party, one could well believe he might end by plunging into the thick of the battle and staying in the front line until he was sure of victory.

Watching him in action, one could not help but think back to four years ago, when a not very enthusiastic and visibly unfired Eisenhower came before the Republican Convention to make an obviously sincere but heavy and shambling acceptance speech. Then, you would have said he would never make a politician.

But now he is a new master of the political art, who has stolen or quietly muffled just about every issue the Democrats could possibly use against him, except the single unavoidable issue of his health (which is one more reason for suspecting that he will end by doing some cross-country stumping, for there is no more effective way for him to muffle the health issue, too).

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

Ike Commands Admiration

In pure political terms, in truth, the performance of the first Eisenhower years has been nothing less than brilliant. But it is not only the political agility and astuteness of this performance that commands admiration. By patience and wisdom, the President has not just united a party that was sadly divided, but he has given his political opponents a steeply uphill row to hoe.

By the same patience and wisdom, the President has also united a country that was sadly divided, and given an astonishing new impetus to America's productive power. Of the prosperity which we now enjoy, it is surely needless to speak at any length. Anyone can see it all around us, despite the unevenness of distribution that has angered the farmers. But the unity of America that Eisenhower has achieved, it is not possible to speak too long or too enthusiastically.

This has been his greatest gift—to end the civil war of the spirit that was tearing and rending and embittering this country, and bring back a decent, seemingly concord among Americans. Four years ago, no man trusted his neighbor, and there were moments when it seemed as though every decent American tradition would finally be

The King Brothers halved itself in Stroudsburg and Middletown. The parliamentary sideshow chose Chicago and San Francisco. Now they are all on the road again with the plebsite gaping at the stenciled frescoes on the tattooed lady.

The constituency will gander the 24 sheets, look at the street parade and watch the show. Then on an irrevocable Tuesday in November it will reverse the merit system of Hollywood by awarding the trophy to Oscar.

From what we learned from the twin-bedlams the Democrats will accentuate reform, economy, prosperity, peace, living wages, good roads, adequate housing and your choice of 28 flavors of ice cream.

The Republicans will add air conditioning, cross-town transfers, two hours for lunch and green trading stamps.

So it doesn't make much difference who cops the nod in November. The great John L. Sullivan said it all in New Orleans. The title remains in America.

The summary of the corn-mills indicates the Democrats are better talkers than the Republicans. That fellow from Tennessee sure blew the bung hole out of the molasses barrel.

Down our way we don't have to worry about putting marks in squares or circles. There's an obliging fellow in the election booth who does all that work for us.

a midnight huddle, urged Kefauver to stay out of the race. They figured Stevenson had made a secret deal with another candidate. They knew Stevenson had told Truman that he didn't trust Kefauver.

The Tennessee senator listened patiently. Nancy, his wife, and Col. Bill Roberts, his treasurer, urged him to stay in the race. He did. Kefauver's decision came just after 1 a. m. Within an hour, political lieutenants rounded up 700 people for a 2 a. m. rally in the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Delegate after delegate bobbed up to tell how important it was to nominate "Keef."

At 3:30 a. m., a smaller group of delegates huddled with Colonel Roberts to arrange strategy. Floor leaders were assigned to each delegation. A communications system was arranged, with Roberts in control at the Stock Yards Inn, where by leaders could send word to Kefauver men through the turmoil of the convention floor.

Kennedy's Father Phones

Senator Kennedy was also busy through the night. His father, millionaire Joseph Patrick Kennedy, first chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, chairman of the Maritime Commission, ambassador to England, was rewarded richly by Roosevelt, but wavered repeatedly about supporting Roosevelt. He raised money for Joe McCarthy and McCarthy. The younger Kennedy, a down-the-line Democrat, has differed with his father, made a fine senator.

quietly being adjusted to this change in our policy. This can be done, even in the case of Great Britain, because the people of those countries do not expect to have all the inside confidential information.

(3) Ordinarily, official statements by Russia would receive considerable attention. Due to the present admission by the Russian government of Stalin's treachery, butchery, and dishonesty, the capitals of other countries will now be skeptical of all Russian political announcements.

(4) I sometimes think that only a great world religious movement could save the day for all concerned. I see no sign of such a movement at the present time. More people are attending churches, but what we hear seems to go in one ear and out the other. Too many churches are becoming high-grade social organizations rather than teaching us to be willing to sacrifice for other families and nations.

(5) By 1965, Germany may again attempt a local European war to control Europe and liberate the Russian satellites.

Fear Having Results

(6) The fear of the atomic bomb and especially of the H-bomb may bring us to our knees. This fear is already having its results. Another factor in the situation is the "guided missile," which could entirely change warfare. The guided missile, however, has not yet been made accurate enough to endanger us.

(7) President Truman's trip abroad will be helpful to the situation. This also applies to all student exchanges and to the great tourists who travel this summer from the U.S. and other countries.

(8) I see no reason why we should have much decline in the stock market during 1956, provided some very unexpected serious event does not occur.

(9) I certainly do not look for World War III for many years, because the people of the United States are in no mood to enter such.

(10) The conservative and patriotic program for each reader is to keep up retail purchases, continue present advertising, and gradually get out of debt.

Milwaukee's Buhl Beats Dodgers 7th Straight Time, 6-2

Aaron, Logan Clout Homers Before 43,868

Braves Take 3-Game Lead; Buhl Equals Buck Walters' Feat

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26.—Milwaukee's Bob Buhl bested Brooklyn 6-2 today to notch his seventh straight victory at the expense of the world champions and increase the Braves' lead over the second-place Dodgers to three games.

The 26-year-old righthander, who had several rocky innings, retained his Indian sign over the Dodgers with the aid of Hank Aaron's 20th home run and Johnny Logan's 12th before a crowd of 43,868.

Sandy Amoros' pinch-hit homer in the ninth—his 10th of the season—accounted for both Brooklyn runs.

Buhl, now 16-5 for the season, became the first pitcher since 1939 to defeat the Dodgers seven times in one season. Bucky Walters, former Braves' pitching coach, did it for Cincinnati.

Buhl was in hot water on several occasions because of walks, but he retired the big men each time except in the ninth. The Dodgers, who collected seven hits, left 10 runners stranded.

Roger Craig, who started and went the first six innings, was the loser. It was his ninth defeat against 12 victories. The Braves scored their first four runs off Craig and added two more off reliever Ed Roebuck.

The Braves took a 1-0 lead in the first inning with an unearned run. Danny O'Connell, on second via a lead-off single and a sacrifice, broke for third on the front end of an apparent hit-and-run play with Aaron at bat. The none-too-speedy O'Connell stole third and continued home on Roy Campanella's wild peg.

Aaron, who played with an upset stomach, made it 3-0 in the third with a blast over the left field fence with O'Connell aboard. Joe Adcock scored the Braves' fourth run in the sixth after doubling to center field. He went to third on Bobby Thomson's single to shallow left and scored on Billy Bruton's sacrifice fly.

With Roebuck pitching in the seventh, Logan belted a solo homer to send the Braves into a 5-0 lead. Consecutive singles by Thomson, Bruton and Del Rice off Roebuck added another run in the eighth.

Cards Split With Giants

Sauer's Home Run Decides First, 4-3

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26.—St. Louis and New York took turns halting one another's five-game winning streaks today as the Cardinals taking the doubleheader opener on Hank Sauer's three-run homer, 4-3, and the Giants the second game, also 4-3, with the aid of three Redbird errors.

Ex-Cardinal Dick Littlefield was the winner in the second game as the Giants scored two unearned runs in the eighth. Johnny Antonelli turned back the Cards the last two innings to preserve his second victory against five defeats.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell was the victim of the Cardinal misplays and his own wildness. It was his 11th defeat against 12 victories.

St. Louis packed all its punch in the opener into a four-run third inning.

Souchak Cops St. Paul Open

Mike Shoots 271, Barber Is Second

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 26.—(INS)—Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C., fired a record-tying 10-under-par final round 62 today to win the $20,000 St. Paul Open Golf Tournament with a 271 - stroke total.

Souchak, a husky former Duke University football star, surged from 18th place—seven strokes behind the 54-hole leader, Don January of Lamasas, Tex.—to win by a stroke over his nearest rival, Jerry Barber, of Los Angeles.

Souchak's final round featured 11 birdies and one bogey. He closed with six straight birdies.

The 62 score for a round was first recorded by Lloyd Mangrum during the 1951 open and was equaled by George Bayer of Grossingers, N. Y., yesterday.

It was Souchak's fourth major win this year. Previously, he had taken the Mexican Caliente Open, The Azalea and the Texas Colonial.

Bracketed in third place with 273 were Tommy Bolt, the defending champion, from Houston, Tex., and Bob Rosburg of San Francisco.

Bill Nary of Wayne, Mich., carded 274.

January, who had gone into the final round with a two-stroke lead, faded to a 73 and finished at 275.

Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pulled a muscle in his left forearm on the fourth hole of his final round and retired.

Philippines Rally For Six In 9th, Trim Cincinnati, 11-4

Redlegs Win First Game By 10-5 Score

CINCINNATI, Aug. 26.—Philadelphia's Phillies belted an assortment of 16 hits today in a 11-4 trouncing of Cincinnati's Redlegs in the second game of a doubleheader. The Reds trimmed the Phillies, 10-5, in the first.

Philadelphia put the game out of Cincinnati's reach with a six-run outburst in the ninth inning in which relievers Hershel Freeman and Joe Black yielded a triple, two doubles and four singles.

The Phillies set up a four-run advantage—two in the first—before the Reds could get a score across.

Redleg rookie Frank Robinson figured in all the Cincinnati runs, doubling Johnny Temple and Hal Jeffcoat home with the first two scores in the third inning and scoring himself on Ted Kluszewski's single.

Catcher Stan Lopata hit his second homer of the day for Philadelphia—his 29th this year—in the fifth.

Harvey Haddix allowed the Reds six hits going all the way for Philadelphia while starter Brooks Lawrence, who was lifted in the fourth took the loss.

Ted Kluszewski hit the Reds' only home run of the day in Cincinnati's first game victory.

Gromek Is Victor; New Yorkers Lead Cut To 7½ Games

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The Detroit Tigers jammed five runs into the third inning of the nightcap for a 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees today after the American League leaders had taken the first game of the doubleheader 7-0 on the six-hit, eight-strikeout pitching of Tom Sturdivant.

Veteran Steve Gromek, one of the few pitchers with a lifetime edge over New York, gained his eighth victory of the season in the after-piece as the Yankees' lead "dipped" to 7½ games over Cleveland. The second-place Indians defeated Washington in a single game.

A single by Bob Wilson, a walk to Gromek and an RBI double by Harvey Kuenn chased Yankee starter Maury McDermott, now 2-6, in the big nightcap third. Then the Tigers continued with singles by Jack Phillips and Ray Boone, an error and a walk netting three more runs after reliever Don Larsen came on. Bill Tuttle's sacrifice fly scored the final run before Bob Grim, the third of five Yankee pitchers, finally retired the side.

The Yankees tagged Gromek, now 19-14 lifetime against them, for 11 hits, scoring twice in the second and once in the third, but then were checked except for an eighth-inning home run by Tommy Byrne, who pitched the last three innings.

Gil McDougall drove in two runs in the opener with singles as the Yankees scored twice in both the second and third inning against Paul Foytack, now 10-11, and added three in the sixth against reliever Bob Miller. Billy Martin stole home for the final tally.

Annex Opener, 8-1, Sox Bag 2nd, 5-1

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26.—The Baltimore Orioles blasted Billy Pierce for 12 hits and took an 8-1 decision over the Chicago White Sox in the first game of a doubleheader today. The White Sox came back in the second game behind the six-hit pitching of Gerry Staley to even the day with a 5-1 win.

Fred Hatfield sent the Sox into a 2-0 lead in the second inning of the second game with a two-run homer off Skinny Brown, Baltimore starter and loser.

The Sox added three more runs in the fourth to wrap it up for Staley, who gave up only six hits and did not allow a runner to advance beyond second until the seventh. Staley lost his shutout when Gus Triandos walloped his 13th homer of the year in the eighth inning.

Pierce had beaten Baltimore 12 straight times before losing today.

Colavito Hero As Tribe Tops Senators, 4-1

Rocky Bats In All Runs; Wynn Tosses 4-Hitter, Bags 15th

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Rocky Colavito hit a two-run double and a two-run homer today to personally lead the Cleveland Indians to a 4-1 victory over the Washington Senators. Early Wynn pitched all the way for Cleveland and gave up only four hits in posting his 15th win.

The Senators clipped Wynn for an unearned run in the first inning when Whitey Herzog singled, stole second, went to third on Jim Hegans' throw into center field and scored on Pete Runnels' pop single to right. The Senators' only hits in the last eight innings were Runnels' fourth-inning double and his ninth-inning single.

Wynn singled off Dean Stone, the loser, in the third inning and stole second as Al Smith fanned. Chico Carrasquel also struck out, but Al Rosen walked and Colavito's double to left scored both runners.

In the eighth, Rosen singled and Colavito rammed his 16th homer into the left-field bleachers.

Wynn struck out six, including Jim Lemon three times. Lemon now has fanned 115 times, six shy of the American League record held by Larry Doby.

Barrelville Cops Pen-Mar Pennant As Zihlman Loses Final

Bombers Beat Wellersburg By Score 8-1

Zihlman Beaten 6-1
By Hyndman; Fourth
Place Teams Tied

PEN-MAR LEAGUE

(Final Standings)	W	L
Barrelville	21	7
Zihlman	20	8
Wellersburg	17	11
Grantsville	14	14

Barrelville's Bombers captured the pennant in the Pen-Mar Baseball League yesterday by defeating Wellersburg by the score of 8-1 while Hyndman was turning back Zihlman to the tune of 6-1.

The battle for the fourth place playoff berth ended in a deadlock between Grantsville and Centerville when Mt. Savage blanked the Sluggers, 2-0, and the Pennsylvanians swamped Flintstone, 22-3.

Centerville and Grantsville wound up the campaign with 14-14 records, necessitating the staging of an extra game to determine the fourth place club for the playoffs.

Decided On Final Day

Barrelville and Zihlman were tied for first place going into yesterday's final games of the regular season. By winning the Bombers finished with a 21-7 record while Zihlman won 20 and lost 8.

It marked the third time in eight years that Barrelville won the regular season title under the leadership of Raymond "Buck" Fiorita, who has managed the Bombers since 1949. Barrelville won both pennant and playoff in 1949 and 1954.

Sisk Clinches Flag

Ronnie Sisk went the route for the Bombers, limiting Wellersburg to four hits, one a circuit belt by Jimmy Morgan in the second inning. He struck out seven and chalked up his fourth win against two setbacks.

Barrelville racked up 10 hits, three of which were credited to Galen McGregor. George McGreggor lapped a triple and Ronnie Cage rapped a two-bagger for the victors. Joe Glass was charged with the loss. The win gave the Bombers a sweep of the four-game series.

Corley Beats Zihlman
Stan Corley fashioned a four-hitter and moved down nine via the strikeout route as Hyndman took the measure of Zihlman. The win was Corley's second against four losses.

Gene Stair was Hyndman's "big gun" with a pair of triples and a double in four trips to the plate. He also batted in two runs. Bob Cook and Corley obtained two hits each. Rickey Harris accounted for two of the losers' four safeties.

"Bubbles" Thompson, first of three Zihlman hurlers, took the loss.

Dawson Blanks Sluggers
Bobby Dawson was returned the victor over William "Junie" Perry in a mound duel as Mt. Savage spilled Grantsville at the latter place. Timely singles by Johnson and Langan produced the Old Germans' two runs.

Dawson tossed a 4-hitter and fanned 10 to record his fourth win against five setbacks. Lefty Perry yielded three hits, whiffed an even dozen and suffered his fifth loss against one victory.

Mt. Savage scored in the first inning when Carter was hit by a pitched ball, moved to second on Winfield's sacrifice and came home on Johnson's base walk.

In the fourth inning, Dorcil Kline drew a pass, pilfered second base and scored on Joe Langan's single. Don Blank had the other hit credited to the Old Germans. Toby Colaw smacked a pair of singles.

Perry got a two-bagger and Johnny Keister a single for all of Grantsville's safeties.

Centerville Pounds Ball
Centerville pounded the offerings of four Flintstone pitchers for 20 hits in routing the tailenders.

George Hale kept the Farmers' eight hits well spaced and also featured on the attack by driving in six runs with a pair of three-run triples. Gary Reeder had a perfect day at the plate with six hits, including a two-bagger. Homer Rose banged two doubles and two singles and David Rose hit safely twice for the Pennsylvanians. Carcella collected two hits for the losers.

Seek Homer Record

Dick Stuart of Lincoln in the Western League and Ken Guettler of Shreveport in the Texas League are making an all-out assault on the all-time minor league homer mark of 72 circuit blows set by Joe Bauman in the Longhorn League two years ago.

Guettler belted his 56th homer recently to rewrite Clarence Kraft's record of 55 which stood for 32 years. Stuart already has more than 60.

MT. Savage	17	Wellsburg	10
Grantsville	14	Flintstone	2

Barrelville's Bombers captured the pennant in the Pen-Mar Baseball League by defeating Wellersburg yesterday by the score of 8-1 while Hyndman was turning back Zihlman to the tune of 6-1.

The battle for the fourth place playoff berth ended in a deadlock between Grantsville and Centerville when Mt. Savage blanked the Sluggers, 2-0, and the Pennylvanians swamped Flintstone, 22-3.

Centerville and Grantsville wound up the campaign with 14-1 records, necessitating the staging of an extra game to determine the fourth place club for the playoffs.

Decided On Final Day
Barrelville and Zihlman were tied for first place going into yesterday's final games of the regular season. By winning the Bombers finished with a 21-7 record while Zihlman won 20 and lost 8.

It marked the third time in eight years that Barrelville won the regular season title under the leadership of Raymond "Buck" Florida, who has managed the Bombers since 1949. Barrelville won both pennant and playoff in 1949 and 1954.

Sisk Clinches Flag
Ronnie Sisk went the route for the Bombers, limiting Wellersburg to four hits, one a circuit belt by Jimmy Morgan in the second inning. He struck out seven and chalked up his fourth win against two setbacks.

Barrelville racked up 10 hits, three of which were credited to Galen McGregor. George McGreggor larpaged a triple and Ronnie Cag rapped a two-bagger for the victors. Joe Glass was charged with the loss. The win gave the Bombers a sweep of the four-game series.

Corley Beats Zihlman
Stan Corley fashioned a four-hitter and moved down nine via the knockout route as Hyndman took the measure of Zihlman. The win was Corley's second against four losses.

"Gene Star was Hyndman's 'big gun' with a pair of triples and a double in four trips to the plate. He also batted in two runs. Bob Cook and Corley obtained two hits each. Rickey Harris accounted for two of the losers' four safeties. "Bubbles" Thompson, first of three Zihlman hurlers, took the loss.

Dawson Blanks Sluggers
Bobby Dawson was returned the victor over William "Junie" Perry in a mound duel as Mt. Savage spilled Grantsville at the latter place. Timely singles by Johnson and Langan produced the Old Germans' two runs.

Dawson tossed a 4-hitter and fanned 10 to record his fourth win against five setbacks. Lefty Perry yielded three hits, whiffed an even dozen and suffered his fifth loss against one victory.

Mt. Savage scored in the first inning when Carter was hit by a pitched ball, moved to second on Winfield's sacrifice and came home on Johnson's base walk. In the fourth inning, Dorcil Kline drew a pass, pilfered second base and scored on Joe Langan's single. Don Blank had the other hit credited to the Old Germans. Toby Colaw smacked a pair of singles. Perry got a two-bagger and Johnny Keister a single for all of Grantsville's safeties.

Centerville Pounds Ball
Centerville pounded the offerings of four Flintstone pitchers for 20 hits in routing the tallenders.

George Hale kept the Farmers' eight hits well spaced and also featured on the attack by driving in six runs with a pair of three-run triples. Gary Reeder had a perfect day at the plate with six hits, including a two-bagger. Homer Rose banged two doubles and two singles and David Rose hit safely twice for the Pennylvanians. Carcella collected two hits for the losers.

The scores:
Zihlman 100 000 000-1 4 0
Hyndman 200 210 100-0 11 0
Thompson, Brodie (6), McFarland (7), and Duncan, Corley and R. Cook, LP—Thompson.

Seek Homer Record
Dick Stuart of Lincoln in the Western League and Ken Guettler of Shreveport in the Texas League are making an all-out assault on the all-time minor league homer mark of 72 circuit blows set by Joe Bauman in the Longhorn League two years ago.

Guettler belted his 56th homer recently to rewrite Clarence Kraft's record of 55 which stood for 32 years. Stuart already has more than 60.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26—(INS)—of Greek statuary being sought by Alan Ladd checks in on the 20th lot tomorrow morning (Monday) to ink the contract with Buddy Adler for "Boy On A Dolphin," one of this studio's biggies.

And this means that Alan and Sue will be leaving soon for Greece where Producer Sam Engel and Director Jean Negulesco are already stationed scouting locations. Ladd has been so busy with his own independent Jaguar Productions lately that it will seem odd to him to be just a star again and not the boss.

Story concerns a valuable piece

Jack Lemmon's estranged wife, Cynthia, has been constantly at the bedside of Jack's mother, Mrs. Mildred Lemmon, who is in St. John's Hospital following surgery for a compound fracture of her leg. She took a bad tumble in the kitchen of her home.

Cynthia immediately contacted Jack in London where he's finishing "Fire Down Below" with Rita Hayworth and told him not to worry. As soon as Mrs. Lemmon is out of traction she'll be taken to Cynthia's home to recuperate. Jack had planned to remain in Europe for a few weeks of sight-seeing, but he's changed those plans and returns here as soon as the picture is completed. Reconciliation, maybe?

Mario Lanza, Betty and the children, sail for Italy September 23 with the intention of remaining abroad a year. Lanza has several movie deals to discuss with Italian producers plus concerts he plans to do in Rome, Paris, London and Germany.

A friend of mine who went over to see Mario a few days ago says he literally never looked in better shape, down to 175 pounds. And thanks to the big sale of his latest

RCA records, he's all right financially. His newest, and one of his first "pops" titled "Earthbound" sold 38,000 platters in one day. And before he leaves he makes his first popular album, "Lanza On Broadway" doing the hit songs from the new shows.

After 50 attractive singers were tested, Peggy King comes up with the leading femme role in "Jack And The Beanstalk," the NBC musical spectacular for Producers Showcase.

Helen Deutsch not only wrote the adaptation of the classic child favorite, but she's responsible for the lyrics. Donald O'Connor is still top choice for "Jack," but he hasn't given it a definite "yes." November 12 is the Bean date. As for Peggy—watch this girl go this year.

Hollywood in shorts: Susan Hayward, who hasn't been dating much lately, was with Stanley Cortez, Ricardo's brother, at the Sportsman's Lodge.

After going through that "secret" divorce in Chicago, it looks like the Tom Duggans will kiss and make up. She had Artie Stebbins buy Tom a set of expensive golf clubs for her to give her "ex" for a birthday present.

Bike Rider Accused Of Setting Church Fire

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP)—A 24-year-old bicycle rider was charged here with setting fire to a church and turning in four false alarms. Joseph F. Schultz of Baltimore was held in $5,000 bail on a charge of setting a fire which caused between $3,500 and $4,000 damage to the organ and some of the pews of St. Matthews' Evangelical and Reformed Lutheran Church. Bail was set at $500 each on the false alarm charges.

He was arrested about 10 minutes after the fire while sitting on his bicycle near St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church, about six blocks from St. Matthews.

That's all today.

Next Year's Commercial

I recall being somewhat non-plussed years ago by a soap commercial that boasted it made the skin radiant, opened the pores (perhaps closed them), smelled like perfumes of Araby and floated. The only claim the soap people didn't make was that the stuff got you clean.

I thought that was what soap was for, an idea that was simple, direct but, by advertising standards, hopelessly naive. Just the same I clung stubbornly to the notion that people looked on a bar of soap as something to wash with rather than a youth restorative, bathtub plaything or deodorant, and recently the soap people seem to be toying with this notion themselves.

We are a long way from simple candor in advertising but at least the idea is being examined by Madison Avenue. In fact, a whole new set of values is emerging over there and next year, you'll be terribly happy to learn, commercials on television will strive to be more entertaining and will emphasize soft sell which is the industry's way of saying they'll try to persuade you into buying the things rather than beating your skull in. One thing that has helped lead the way is Bert and Harry, the cartoon characters who sell Piel Brothers beer so successfully. These delightful guys violated all sorts of Madison Avenue concepts and yet an American Research Bureau survey showed that Piel Brothers commercials were the most popular among viewers across the nation. Theoretically Harry and Bert were a little too sophisticated for the average American but the theory turned out to be all wrong. At least partly as a consequence, commercials next year will be more sophisticated, pay more attention to good taste, and have a "less hectic story line." Television Age proclaims. In the matter of sophistication, it seems to me that Madison Avenue is the last to become sophisticated enough to recognize that it pays off.

Even cheerier news is that greater emphasis will be placed on entertainment. From the very beginning, children have been entranced by commercials, sometimes preferring them to the program. From there it is only a step to conclude that commercials might be made entertaining for all of us but it was a long step. Ad agency folk had first to get rid of the notion that they had to irritate, annoy or infuriate the customer before he was in the proper mood to buy anything.

The next step was to elbow the ad men aside and let some genuinely creative people try their hand. That took some doing. Nevertheless, next year you will see more and more filmed commercials which film producers have been permitted to create, write and produce without the dead hand of ad people taking all of the fun out of the thing.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠63 ♥72 ♦1063 ♣AK10854

Your partner opens with one no trump. What is your response?

A.—Three no trump. True, you can't count up to the required 26 points, but the compensating feature of a six-card suit headed by the two top honors makes the bid a reasonable speculation. Since partner must not make a one no trump opening without at least the Q x or x x in clubs, chances of running the entire suit are good.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠K1074 ♥63 ♦KQJ93 ♣43

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 club Pass 1 diamond Pass

1 heart Pass 1 spade Pass

1 no trump Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two diamonds. Although chances for game are just about nil since partner was unable to make a free bid, some further competition should be offered to prevent the opponents from making off with a cheap part score. You may succeed in driving them one level higher than they can afford to go.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

♠76 ♥KQ105 ♦AJ42 ♣AJ10

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass 1 heart 2 clubs Pass

3 diamonds Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Three hearts. This holding does not of itself contain the prescribed values for a competitive bid at the three level, but under the circumstances, such action is recommended. West has announced a very weak hand and East did not have enough to go on so your partner is definitely marked with some values. If he has a good fit, there may even be a game in the offing.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠AQJ64 ♥1092 ♦A42 ♣32

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 heart Double 3 hearts Pass

3 spades Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. You have the equivalent of an opening bid facing a partner who has opened and then jumped, so there are slam possibilities present and one forward move by you is indicated. The recommended bid is to show the ace of diamonds. Any further action will devolve upon partner.

Q. 5—As South you hold:

♠K87 ♥K95 ♦6432 ♣872

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 heart Double 3 hearts Pass

3 spades Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trump. This is a pretty good hand for a partner who has undertaken a nine trick contract all by himself. The king of spades should solidify that suit, but since the king of hearts represents a potential

In the matter of sophistication, it seems to me that Madison Avenue is the last to become sophisticated enough to recognize that it pays off.

Even cheerier news is that greater emphasis will be placed on entertainment. From the very beginning, children have been entranced by commercials, sometimes preferring them to the program. From there it is only a step to conclude that commercials might be made entertaining for all of us but it was a long step. Ad agency folk had first to get rid of the notion that they had to irritate, annoy or infuriate the customer before he was in the proper mood to buy anything.

The next step was to elbow the ad men aside and let some genuinely creative people try their hand. That took some doing. Nevertheless, next year you will see more and more filmed commercials which film producers have been permitted to create, write and produce without the dead hand of ad people taking all of the fun out of the thing.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
 Q. 1—As South you hold:
 ♠ 3 ♥ 7 2 ♦ 10 6 3 ♣ AK10 8 5 4
 Your partner opens with one no trump. What is your response?
 A.—Three no trump. True, you can't count up to the required 26 points, but the compensating feature of a six-card suit headed by the two top honors makes the bid a reasonable speculation. Since partner must not make a one no trump opening without at least the Q x or x x in clubs, chances of running the entire suit are good.
 Q. 2—As South you hold:
 ♠ K 10 7 4 ♥ 6 3 ♦ KQJ 9 3 ♣ A J 10
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 club Pass 1 diamond Pass
 1 heart Pass 1 spade Pass
 1 no trump Pass
 What do you bid now?
 A.—Pass. Partner has shown a minimum type opening and opposite your nine points, no game can be in contemplation. You do not have reason to seek a better parking place and a pass is clearly indicated.
 Q. 3—As South you hold:
 ♠ 7 6 ♥ KQ10 5 ♦ A J 4 2 ♣ A J 10
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 club Pass 1 heart Pass
 1 spade Pass 1 club Pass
 What do you bid now?
 A.—Two diamonds. Although chances for game are just about nil since partner was unable to make a free bid, some further competition should be offered to prevent the opponents from making off with a cheap part score. You may succeed in driving them one level higher than they can afford to go.
 Q. 4—As South you hold:
 ♠ A 12 ♥ AQJ 5 2 ♦ QJ 2 ♣ A 9 7
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 2 diamonds Pass 2 hearts Pass
 2 spades Pass 2 clubs Pass
 What do you bid now?
 A.—Four diamonds. You have the equivalent of an opening bid facing a partner who has opened and then jumped, so there are slim possibilities present and one forward move by you is indicated. The recommended bid is to show the ace of diamonds. Any further action will devolve upon partner.
 Q. 5—As South you hold:
 ♠ A Q J 6 4 ♥ 10 9 2 ♦ A 4 2 ♣ 3 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 heart Pass 1 spade Pass
 3 spades Pass 3 hearts Pass
 What do you bid now?
 A.—Four diamonds. You have the equivalent of an opening bid facing a partner who has opened and then jumped, so there are slim possibilities present and one forward move by you is indicated. The recommended bid is to show the ace of diamonds. Any further action will devolve upon partner.
 Q. 6—As South you hold:
 ♠ K 8 7 ♥ Q 9 5 ♦ 6 4 3 2 ♣ 5 7 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 heart Double 5 hearts Pass
 3 spades Pass 3 hearts Pass
 What do you bid now?
 A.—Three hearts. This is a pretty good hand for a partner who has undertaken a nine trick contract all by himself. The king of spades should solidify that suit, but since the king of hearts represents a potential value only with your hand protected from the opening lead, it might prove easier to try the shorter road to game.
 Q. 7—As South you hold:
 ♠ J 10 7 6 ♥ KQ10 7 4 3 ♦ 6 ♣ 10 4
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 diamond 2 clubs 2
 What do you bid?
 A.—Pass. A bid of two hearts would be

Ten Are Hurt in Series Of Auto Mishaps

Car Overturns On Local Street

Ten persons were injured in a series of auto accidents which occurred in Cumberland and area over the weekend including a two-car crash at a local intersection in which one of the cars turned over.

About 1:10 p. m. yesterday Minnie N. Booth, 67, of 2 Clement Street, was admitted to Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained in a two-car collision at the intersection of Frederick and Decatur Streets.

Two Cars Collide

In an early morning crash here yesterday Mrs. Goldie Adams, of 481 Eastern Avenue, was admitted to the same hospital with injuries sustained in the two-car crash at the intersection of Frederick and Decatur Streets.

Also injured was Mrs. Belle Johnson, wife of Earl Johnson, of Artemas, Pa., driver of one of the cars, who suffered a shin injury.

Three Baltimore residents were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital late Saturday night following a tractor-trailer auto accident on Green Ridge Mountain.

In the third accident, four persons were admitted to Bedford Memorial Hospital Saturday as the result of a two-car collision on the Pennsylvania turnpike at 8:10 a. m. 12 miles east of the Bedford interchange.

The accident which occurred yesterday about noon caused considerable property damage to two cars. Pennsylvania State Police said a car driven by C. T. Livengood, 47, RD 4, Bedford and J. L. Berry, 65, of 2 Clement Street, city, collided at the intersection in the area of the Koon Dam.

The injured person, Minnie Booth, suffered a possible fracture of her jaw, possible fracture of the right leg and a laceration of the face. An investigation is being continued in the accident.

In the local crash investigated by Officer Charles Cubbage, a car driven by Johnson rammed into the auto operated by James Kalahoun, 20, of RFD 3, Everett, Pa., at the Frederick Street, Decatur Street intersection causing the Kalahoun vehicle to turn over in the street.

Kalahoun and Jane Shearer, 23, of New Paris, Pa. were shaken up by the impact although they were not injured, police said. The car went about 50 feet up Frederick Street after being struck by the Johnson car.

East Side firemen were called to the scene and hosed down the intersection. Police said that the two injured persons were passengers in the car driven by Johnson.

In the front seat with the driver was Leo Adams who apparently was uninjured. Both drivers are being charged with reckless driving and will be given a hearing this morning in Trial Magistrate's Court.

Officer Cubbage took Kalahoun and Miss Sherrer to the hospital in the Police Department's patrol wagon.

His Tractor-Trailer

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital in the Green Ridge Mountain accident were James Leroy Pyles, 28, driver of the car; Shirley Lee Carpenter, 28, and Robert Lee Leeson, 21, both passengers in the Pyles vehicle.

Pyles sustained a possible fracture of the left leg, while Miss Carpenter suffered a laceration of her left leg, and Leeson suffered a laceration of the cheek.

Trooper Carlton Lewis of the Maryland State Police said the accident occurred when the Pyles car crossed the center line and rammed into the tractor-trailer driven by John S. Angel, 49, of Pasadena, Md. Angel was not injured.

Crash On Turnpike

In the turnpike accident a car operated by Alex Ossif, 28, of Indianapolis, was said to be following another eastbound vehicle operated by Isabelle Manchester, 68, of Canfield, Ohio.

The Ossif car hit the rear end of the Manchester auto.

The victims of the accident are listed as Joseph P. Armour, 10, of Indianapolis, who sustained a deeply lacerated forehead and a possible skull fracture; Janet Ossif, 17, Indianapolis, internal bleeding and internal injuries; Margaret Armour, 9, Indianapolis, lacerations of the head, arms and legs, and Alex Ossif, head laceration and a possible laceration of the knee.

New Patrol Wagon

This is the new look in paddy wagons. The above pictured vehicle has been seen in Cumberland during the past few days after being placed in operation by the local Police Department. Standing on the driver's side of the patrol wagon is Officer Walter Crabtree, who works the 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. shift. The new vehicle replaces an old paddy wagon which was purchased by the city about 10 years ago.

Metz Is Named Commander Of State Legion

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — LeRoy G. Metz of Hagerstown, is the new commander of the Maryland Department of the American Legion.

Metz, a member of Morris Frock Post No. 42, succeeds David L. Brigham of Norman Price Post No. 68 of Sandy Spring. Brigham was named national executive committee member.

Election of department officers for the coming year wound up the final session of the 1956 state convention yesterday. With it behind them, the 1,300 delegates from throughout Maryland headed home.

Officers Elected

Other officers elected at the 38th annual convention include: Harry T. Phoebus, Jr., Stanley Cochran Post No. 16, Crisfield, judge advocate; Samuel L. Campbell, Dundalk Post No. 38, treasurer; Jerome J. Jansky, Ludwig Post No. 139, Baltimore, historian; Freddie Mann, Cheverly Post No. 108, sergeant at arms, and the Rev. Valentine P. Weissert, Russell-Sernocky Post No. 184, Baltimore, chaplain.

William Holley of Catonsville, was re-elected vice commander at large.

At the yesterday's session, the delegates ratified several resolutions.

Urge Bonus Bill

Included was a very general resolution urging the State Legislature to enact a "suitable veteran's bonus bill . . . subject to a referendum by the voters."

Earlier this week, William R. Clay of Rockville, chairman of the Legislative Committee, said the bonus could be financed through dog racing revenues if the State Racing Commission approves such racing.

Clay also estimated that, based on a maximum of $300 per veteran, the bonus would cost 80 million dollars.

Another resolution urged the Legislature "to give careful consideration to raising the salaries of our teachers."

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday by Rev. Norris Lee Cook, assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

When Belief Becomes Life

By REV. NORRIS LEE COOK

Statistics prove that the churches of our land are more heavily populated than they have ever been in our history. The reason for this lies in the very nature of the church. The church is more than just a building or a group of people. It is the body of Christ; men united in their common acceptance of Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior. This is the basis of our faith and should be the reason for the phenomenal growth in church membership as more and more men have realized the necessity of a personal relationship with God.

Men have questioned this and state that the church today is nothing more than a people united by their common fear of the future, wildly shouting slogans to bolster their own faltering courage. Both Germany and Soviet Russia have used slogans to the best advantage as action words to unite the people in a common effort. This has proved and is proving to be wasted energy. Their cause was and is not big enough to withstand the passing of history.

Yet the Christian church remains. With the passing of history it has proved itself to be the one call to loyalty consistently worthy of the best that men could give. The old slogans also remain. Yet in many cases these once powerful shouts have become mere whispered words.

It is so easy to believe in miracles; in supernatural things. At least in comparison to putting faith to work; that same faith which prompts miracles. It is easy to accept something which does not require you to change your life.

The Church of Jesus Christ has a mission in this world; it is more than building well attended institutions or remembering miracles.

8,000 See Show Held At Airport

A crowd estimated at upwards of 8,000 people witnessed a colorful air show at Cumberland Municipal Air Port yesterday afternoon. About 200 planes from some 10 or 12 states came here to see and participate in the display. Aircraft parked all around the field attracted considerable attention.

A flight of F-51 National Guard fighter planes from Martinsburg came here and took part, as did flight groups and flight clubs from the immediate area and as far away as South Carolina.

According to Warren R. Mullen, airport manager, it was the largest crowd seen at the airport for an air show in a long time.

Bevo Howard, Woody Edmundson and Gorge Young, all scheduled as top-flight pilots and aerial artists, were here in person.

Two sensational parachute jumps were made by Melvin Robertson, youthful jumper from High Point, N. C.

Weather for the air show was ideal. There was little wind, skies were clear and visibility was good. The affair was sponsored locally by the Cumberland Pilots Association.

Mrs. Tydings Enters Contest For US Senate

Tells Womens Clubs She Is Candidate

OCEAN CITY, Md., Aug. 26 (AP) — Mrs. Millard E. Tydings announced today she will seek the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate which was vacated by her husband one week ago.

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet tomorrow in Baltimore to choose a replacement for the former senator, who was forced from the race by illness.

Mrs. Tydings' announcement at a meeting in this Atlantic Coast resort town of the United Democratic Womens Clubs of Maryland climaxed a week of fierce maneuvering by George P. Mahoney, who lost to Tydings in the primary election last May by an eyelash, and by those who oppose him.

Will Choose Candidate

The person chosen at tomorrow's meeting will face Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler, who vanquished Tydings from the Senate in 1950 after 24 years service, in the November general election.

Mahoney was seated on the platform when Mrs. Tydings, in a brief off-the-cuff speech, said she had agreed to become a candidate "to carry on the name of Tydings in November."

The announcement was greeted by a loud demonstration in the hall filled by leading men and women Democrats, among them the party's top leaders in Maryland. Mahoney, who sat with a grave expression throughout the talk, arose and applauded with the others.

Mrs. Tydings said she had reached a decision "after a sleepless night" and "after much prayerful consideration."

She said she had intended to visit the meeting only "to make a short report on my husband's health."

Praises Mahoney

She added, "But during the last 24 hours so many of our close friends have asked me to go on with the Tydings candidacy. I have had to fall back upon my female prerogative and change my mind."

"I hope sincerely no one will consider me a disruptive influence," she said.</

When Belief Becomes Life

By REV. NORRIS LEE COOK

Statistics prove that the churches of our land are more heavily populated than they have ever been in our history. The reason for this lies in the very nature of the church. The church is more than just a building or a group of people. It is the body of Christ; men united in their common acceptance of Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior. This is the basis of our faith and should be the reason for the phenomenal growth in church membership as more and more men have realized the necessity of a personal relationship with God.

Men have questioned this and state that the church today is nothing more than a people united by their common fear of the future, wildly shouting slogans to bolster their own faltering courage. Both Germany and Soviet Russia have used slogans to the best advantage as action words to unite the people in a common effort. This has proved and is proving to be wasted energy. Their cause was and is not big enough to withstand the passing of history.

Yet the Christian church remains. With the passing of history it has proved itself to be the one call to loyalty consistently worthy of the best that men could give. The old slogans also remain. Yet in many cases these once powerful shouts have become mere whispered words.

It is so easy to believe in miracles; in supernatural things. At least in comparison to putting faith to work; that same faith which prompts miracles. It is easy to accept something which does not require you to change your life.

The Church of Jesus Christ has a mission in this world: it is more than building; well attended institutions or remembering miracles.

8,000 See Show Held At Airport

A crowd estimated at upwards of 8,000 people witnessed a colorful air show at Cumberland Municipal Air Port yesterday afternoon. About 200 planes from some 10 or 12 states came here to see and participate in the display. Aircraft parked all around the field attracted considerable attention.

A flight of F-51 National Guard fighter planes from Martinsburg came here and took part, as did flight groups and flight clubs from the immediate area and as far away as South Carolina.

According to Warren R. Mullen, airport manager, it was the largest crowd seen at the airport for an air show in a long time.

Bevo Howard, Woody Edmundson and George Young, all scheduled as top-flight pilots and aerial artists, were here in person.

Two sensational parachute jumps were made by Melvin Robertson, youthful jumper from High Point, N. C.

Weather for the air show was ideal. There was little wind, skies were clear and visibility was good. The affair was sponsored locally by the Cumberland Pilots Association.

Beckley Police Officer Shot; Slayer Killed

BECKLEY, W. Va., Aug. 26 (AP) — A city patrolman was shot to death early today after curbing a speeding auto. His slayer was killed by another policeman.

The dead were Patrolman Dale Buckland, 31, of Beckley, and Harry Oliver Cooper, 48, of nearby Cool Ridge.

Police Chief James H. Poole gave this account of the shootings: Buckland and Patrolman Jess Williams, 40, halted a car being driven erratically about 4 a. m.

Williams parked the patrol car. Buckland checked the driver's license, then went around to the other side of the car.

Williams heard a shot and saw Buckland slump to the ground. Cooper was standing over Buckland with a pistol, Poole said, and Williams shot Cooper through the head.

The driver of the car, Ralph M. Sears, 27, of nearby Crab Orchard, was being held without charge as a material witness.

Buckland is survived by a wife and one child. Cooper's survivors include the widow and 12 children.
